Allure of Mohican

The Loudonville-Mohican Convention & Visitors Bureau welcomes you to the beautiful Mohican Valley. As you look through our visitor guide you'll discover why the Loudonville-Mohican area is a four-season vacation destination.

Mohican State Park and Forest is an outdoor lover's delight with its many recreational trails and sightseeing points of interest. Nearby, Malabar Farm is one of Ohio's most unique State Parks. We're proud to be home to a designated State Scenic River - the Mohican. It parallels the Wally Road Scenic Byway, one of many roads with breathtaking sights. Together, the Mohican and Wally form the centerpiece for our famous camping and canoeing industry.

With recreation galore, a fantastic calendar of festivals and events, and lodging from rustic to royal - visitors are coming to Mohican all year 'round. Add to the mix an array of specialty shops and mouthwatering restaurants, and it's easy to see why many make the Loudonville-Mohican area their home-away-from-home.

We're conveniently located midway between Cleveland and Columbus, so make plans today to stay with us overnight, for a week, or an entire season. Once here stop by the Visitors Bureau office in downtown Loudonville, or look for the Visitor's Information Center cabin across from Mohican State Park Campground on State Route 3, south of town.
